

State Authorization – For Online Students from States Other Than California

The U.S. Department of Education requires that any U.S. college or university offering online or distance programs to citizens in a state where it is not physically located to meet those other states' requirements to legally offer postsecondary, online education to their residents. The regulations for authorization vary from state to state.

Fremont College, located in California, is pursuing authorization from many states and can currently offer online programs to students residing in the following U.S. states and territories either through licensure, authorization, or exemption (no “Physical Presence”):

If you are a U.S. citizen, do not reside in California, and are thinking about enrolling in a Fremont College online program, we urge you to review the regulations regarding authorization of your specific state. If you become a Fremont College student and subsequently move to a new state, to avoid any interruptions in your enrollment status, you are responsible for ensuring Fremont's program is approved in the new state. Rules and regulations vary by state and could change at any time. All students must update Fremont records regarding a change of address especially if moving to a different state.

Students and members of the public may file an external complaint with the designated state regulatory agency:
